It's Working

Emma is the five year old daughter who's mother attended one of our Parenting Seminars this summer.

This past week Emma was sitting at her desk coloring and one of the other kids was picking on her. Other kids were watching to see what Emma would do. She kept her head down and continued to color and he kept picking. This kept on until she had finally had enough. She looked up at him and said, "Your choices do not look good on you."

You could have heard a pin drop.

Her mother shared that the teacher is now asking questions about Life Is Full Of Choices.

I talked to another family and the husband thanked us for the Seminar. He said that since incorporating Life Is Full Of Choices into their lives, his stressed out wife has had an easier time dealing with their two kids. He said, "Our home has been much more peaceful since attending your Seminar."

I spent an afternoon with a men's Bible Study Group talking about the Three Cornerstones of Life Is Full Of Choices. After an hour or so of discussion the Pastor said, "This is a lot deeper than it would first appear."

As Sheryl and I have felt God's leading to write these three books, and as we have felt His leading to direct the Parenting Seminars, we have been dealing with the unknown. Will it work? Will people understand? Will God really use this tool to affect kids, families and even the lives of pastors?

We are praising God that His answer is yes! It is working.

Thank you for your interest in our ministry. We could not do what we are doing without your help.

In His grip,

John

Answered Prayer

We really appreciate your prayers for us and how God has answered them as we traveled in the Northwest. Our truck broke down so many times we are thinking of calling her flattery—because flattery will get you nowhere.

But God is faithful. We were able to fix it ourselves or we were near a mechanic who was recommended to us.

In each and every case God provided just what we needed to get where we needed to go.

Prayer Requests

Continue to pray for our safety as we travel. This month we will be traveling in Texas.

Our oldest grandson, Liam, will be turning five this month and we are going to be there to help him blow out the candles.

While there, Sheryl will be leading a Women's Group on the topic of Prayer.

Together we will be leading two Parenting Seminars as well as speaking in the Churches about Life Is Full Of Choices.
